This facility was built to provide a new office for the Social Security Administration on the north-west side of Houston. This office building serves to both office SSA employees and to provide service to the public. In addition to the office space and training facilities, there are 48 different interview counters for SSA employees to interact with customers.

WM Dillard & Associates worked with the Owner on this project from site selection through design and on to construction. In this process, WM Dillard was able to coordinate with the Owner and Architect on material selection and value engineering.

The building is structural steel and block with a TPO roof system over the main roof and a curved metal roof over arched deck at the center of the building. The exterior is masonry block and brick with glass curtain wall at the entry.
